Announcing The NEW FINER CHRYSLER '70' New Lower Prices—

Presenting a New Influence on all Motoring for Years to Come

Newer, more distinctive silhouette—
Newer, more exquisitely graceful bodies—Newer, exclusive style of military front with cadet visor on enclosed models—Newer luxury of comfort with deeper and softer cushions—
Newer, greater riding ease, with exclusive no-
side-sway vanadium springs, Watson stabil-izers and extra-size full balloon tires, mounted on newly-designed smaller wheels—Newer richness of interior upholstery. Finer hardware and fittings with a handsome clock added to the newly beautified instrument panel—
Newer refinements in controls and headlamps—
Newer, more attractive blendings in body tones,
with newer and subtler harmonies in stripings
and panelings.

Again, with the new, finer Chrysler "70", Chrysler creates a distinctive departure in design and a new measure of value for an industry to follow.

Today, while attempts are still made to match the first

Chrysler standards of performance and symmetry
originated three years ago,
the new, finer Chrysler "70"
exceeds the charm and smartness of its older self, just as that older self relegated the earlier conceptions of motor car beauty and performance
to oblivion.

With its new vibrant beauty,
joined to energetic and vivacious performance, unap-proached economy, proved dependability and long life—

at prices which register a distinct enhancement of motor car
value—the new, finer Chrysler "70" leaves today's trend
as far behind as the original
"70" advanced the styles of three years ago.

Come in. See this new Chrysler "70" beauty today—experience its new measure of comfort—combined with a performance which an entire industry for three years has failed to approach.

1—Crayon sketch of Viscount Willingdon drawn on board Empress of Scotland just prior to the vessel sailing for Canada.
2—The vessel's departure for Canada.
3—Story (left): Cuthbert, belonging to Their Excellencies which gained instant popularity.
4—Menu card designed for use on the Empress of Scotland when she carried the Governor-General to Canada, showing on a map of the world the various positions held over by the Empire by Viscount Willingdon.
5—Canadian Pacific. Flagship Empress of Scotland which carried Their Excellencies to Canada.

Their Excellencies Viscount and Viscountess Willingdon made many friends on their voyage from England to Quebec, when the Canadian Pacific flagship Empress of Scotland, when His Lordship came here in October to become Governor-General of the Dominion. They paid visits to all parts of the vessel's halting with new arrivals for Canada and presenting at the various functions that take place aboard ship during a voyage. Sharing their popularity was their Canadian friend, Mr. who was friends with everyone except perhaps a plump Chuk who looked to him as though he might develop into a dangerous rival.

Canada's thirteenth Governor-General had a fine reception when the ship docked at Quebec. He struck a tactful note when he told his French-Canadian audience he too could claim descent from the Normans and that French blood flowed in his veins equally as in theirs. "In this country," he said, "the descendants of our two races have worked for many years under the British Crown for a common purpose and object, namely, to promote the welfare and prosperity of the people of this wonderful country."

First impressions are vital in establishing successful relations and perhaps no impression gave so cordial an effect as one of His Lordship's speeches aboard the Empress of Scotland, which was broadcast all over Canada. In it he said: "I wonder if I may venture to add one word of rather an intimate and personal character. It is a thing to wish all my fellow passengers the best of good luck in the future and all health and happiness they can possibly expect and obtain. May I ask them one and all to give an occasional thought—a kindly thought—to one who is about to undertake very grave responsibilities for the British Empire in the great Dominion of Canada."

That is the true democratic note, sounded with modesty and feeling and sure of an unreserved response throughout the length and breadth of Canada.

CARNIVAL A BIG SUCCESS
(By H. R. Kennedy)

The curtain rang down on the second Annual Elks' Harvest Carnival promptly at 12 o'clock Saturday night and the big crowd of 4000 people wended their way home singing the praises of the Lacombe Lodge for the splendid clean-cut program that was presented to them last week at the casting rink for their entertainment, and the objective of all the Elks' entertainments—to make life sweeter, men better, and the world happier, was accomplished. The big committee of hard working Bills are happy over the results attained during the week of festivities.

Every night was a winner, and if there is any night that deserves any more mention, it is Friday and Saturday. Friday as set aside as Elks' night and the out of town Bills were in full force, and were all having a raft-Elks' time. The committee in charge is indeed grateful for the splendid turn out and assistance given to this Autumn Function from the Ponoka Bills, headed by Exalted Ruler Dr. G. E. Budd, Secretary W. R. Ferguson, and about fifty more Elks and their wives. They sure put up pep into the program and their Elks' band received lots of compliments for their comedy stunts and classical program they presented on the grandstand in the early part of the evening. The big event on the program Friday night was the prize wrestling contest. Fifty couples competed in this spirited terpsichorean contest, and the Lacombe Lodge of Elks can now boast of one of their members holding the championship honors for Central Alberta, in this popular event. We refer to Jack Halpin and his sister Marion, who danced their way to victory and received the handsome prize that was given to the winners of this event. The judges, Mrs. W. R. McLaughlin, Jack Richmond and A. A. Graham, all of Ponoka, paid Jack and his sister Marion, a big compliment for the grace and ease they displayed in this contest against some of the best dancers in the district. Wilbur Rankin and William McDermott, Dr. L. S. Irving, Melvin Cruickshank, in charge of the dancing program.

gram turned the streamers and confetti loose after this prize event and everybody had a real good old fashioned time with a 100 per cent. of the Carnival spirit on display all through the big crowd present, and kept it up until the curfew rang at High Midnight, which sent everybody home happy and complimenting the Elks for the splendid success of the big event.

The Lacombe Lodge of Elks take this opportunity of expressing their hearty appreciation for the splendid support given them in making the Carnival a big success, and the net proceeds will be spent for benevolent purposes for all the people in the Lacombe district.

SIDELIGHTS AS SEEN FROM THE BOARD WALK AT THE CARNIVAL

The Elks band with their comedy stunt, "The Musicians strike" had the big crowd gawking and many thought it was a real walkout.

Tom O'Shea could not be present and he sent in a donation to boost the carnival. That's the constructive spirit Tom!

Michael Madden, Reeve of the Municipality was an interested spectator and was having the best time since he left the Emerald Isle.

Father Harrison spent a happy hour at the big show Wednesday night and paid the committee in charge a nice compliment for the good program. Ole Roode and Claude Rowe entertained the crowd for thirty minutes in an exhibition wrestling match, and these gladiators of the mat showed the big crowd some real man power.

Dozens of homes have added roasts pekin duck to their menu since the Carnival. Stan Adamson, Dr. Locke, Jack Russell, Emil Gordon, Clarence Hergott and other Bills in charge of this booth gave away hundreds to the winners.

Mayor Perry W. Pratt, accompanied by Mrs. Pratt had a good night. His honor didn't miss anything on the program or the midway.

Mrs. George Doherty in charge of the candy counter, put on a special number at her booth. She secured a beautiful Persian cat and sold guesses on the number of whiskers on Tabby's face. This was a real comedy stunt. Amasa Deiggs has the distinction of being the only person attending the Carnival in a Silk Tie. Mr. Briggs is a great booster for all Elks' entertainments.

Spas will not permit us to mention everybody that attended the carnival or the hard working Bills. But we want to announce that the sacred concerts by the Lacombe Elks band will open in the Elks' Hall, Sunday October 31st, and Bandmaster Duncphy and his fifteen artists are busy rehearsing a new musical program which will entertain the music lovers of the district at least twice a month during the winter season.

BENTLEY NEWS

In spite of difficulties associated with bad weather, threshing is progressing slowly, but surely throughout the district. This is the first week that we have seen a cloud of dust rising from the machines scattered throughout the valley.

One afternoon, from the top of Stevenson's Hill, 3 miles west of town smoke and dust was seen arising from eleven machines. This would cover probably a circular area of some 15-20 miles in diameter.

Yields reported by those who have threshed are higher than many have expected. Wheat is variously reported from 35 to over 50 bushels per acre. Barley 40-5. Oats 65-80. All grain has been damaged by the bad weather.

Mr. Ross a well known old timer of the district was victim of a painful accident last Tuesday afternoon. While working around a gasoline engine in the granary his clothes got caught in the wheel and belt. He was badly shaken around for a few minutes before the engine stopped.

His clothes were torn from him, and knotted around the wheel. Mr. Ross was badly cut and bruised, with his right leg seriously injured. At the time of the accident, Mr. Ross was alone on the farm. His cries for help were heard by Harry Hanson, who with his brother went to his aid at once. They secured aid and the patient was removed to the Bentley hospital.

BIRTHS—

RED CROSS NOTES

All persons interested in Red Cross Work are cordially asked to attend a meeting at my office, Western Globe Building on Friday, Oct. 22 at 8 p.m.

Wilson Ritsen, Hon. Secretary.

Red Cross work was not ended when the bugles blew "Cease Fire" at the Armistice.

Some of the services which the Canadian Red Cross Society is striving to fulfill are as follows:

1 The Canadian Red Cross Society is striving to fulfill this. Some of the services to the people of Canada are as follows:

1 The Society introduces Junior Red Cross into the Schools. By this means 100,000 young Canadians are banded together to practice the rules of healthy living.

2 The Red Cross organizes Classes in Home Nursing. Through these more than 9,000 women and girls have already been taught the elements of nursing and the principles of home hygiene and healthy living.

3 The Society establishes Red Cross Outposts in Pioneer districts so that nursing service may be brought to their scattered populations.

4 The Society operates Seaport Nurseries at the Atlantic Ports. In these immigrant mothers and children are welcomed to Canada and given such attention as may be needed.

5 The Red Cross is equipped to render Disaster Relief when a community is overwhelmed by catastrophe.

6 The Red Cross publishes and distributes Health Literature, so that people may come to realize the amount of unnecessary sickness which exists among them and may learn how it can be prevented.

7 As auxiliary to the Government, as set forth in the Act of Incorporation, the Canadian Red Cross Society provides help and comfort to the disabled Ex-Serviceman and, if necessary, in case of sickness, relieves the needs of his family.

All these Services and many others are necessary to the welfare of Canada. In order that they may be maintained, improved and extended your help and your money are needed.

FATES NOT KIND TO HON. MR. ROSS

THUS far Premier Brownlee has not been able to announce just what he proposes to do in the case of his minister of public works. Mr. Ross since the late provincial election, has been standing up at his job and he must be getting rather tired of the perpendicular condition.

In the ordinary course of events it would be reasonable to expect some other member of the Labor party of which Hon. Mr. Ross, has always been regarded as a leader, to step in, opening the way for a seat for the defeated minister. But the situation according to Labor leaders, is far from ordinary. Labor elects its city members from city constituencies where, proportional representation rules the vote. They fear that in a by-election where there might be only two candidates the Labor candidate would lose out, which would mean worse off than ever. So there is no Labor member rushing to the aid of Hon. Alex Ross.

The minister's only hope seems to be in a rural constituency, under the banner of the U. F. A. But Mr. Ross is not a farmer, and the U. F. A. whip contends that his case is not on all fours with that, say, of the attorney-general, who was adopted by the U. F. A. because the political organization had no lawyer within its ranks who could do the work required. The whip reasons any suggestion that U. F. A. ranks are barren of men quite as well qualified as Mr. Ross, to preside over the public works department. Possibly he is right. On the other hand Mr. Ross has given loyal service to the Farmer Government.

If Premier Brownlee should happen to want Hon. Alex Ross back enough he might prevail upon some U. F. A. constituency to let its member resign and accept in his place the seatless member. But even if Mr. Ross should be accepted by a U. F. A. constituency and elected therefrom to the legislature, he would be according to Labor party heads, cease to be a Labor representative. Generally the fates seem to be playing it rather low down on the public works department.

Mrs. J. E. Ryan will hold a sale of farm property on the farm of Wilson Ritsen, three miles south of Joffre, on November 17th. Full particulars later.

Lord Willingdon Honored by McGill

Lord Willingdon, Canada's new Governor-General, was honored by McGill University in Montreal recently, when the honorary degree of LL.D. was conferred upon his Excellency at the McGill University Convocation. His Lordship paid his first official visit to Montreal when he arrived for the ceremony on October 6th. He was met at the Windsor Street Station by E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway and Chancellor of McGill University, and Sir Arthur Currie, Vice-Chancellor of the University.

Crowds lined the short route of the procession along the University campus and the street bordering the University grounds. The virgatus of the full academic gowns were seen, his Lordship, tall and impressive, in scarlet and white robes and black velvet cap of the LL.D. The honorary degree was conferred by the Chancellor. Lord Willingdon's great services to India and to the Empire were cited by Sir Arthur Currie when he rose to present his Excellency for the degree of Doctor of Laws. When the degree was bestowed the entire assemblage stood while His Lordship signed the book of honor. In a brief speech he said: "I rise for one moment only as visitor to this University, and by that office, as I understand it, the representative of our beloved Sovereign King George, to express to you, as Chancellor of this university, my sincere appreciation of this high honor that you have done me today in giving me the honorary degree of LL.D."

The University was, continued the Governor-General, taking him much on trust, as they knew very little about him beyond hearsay. "I can only say here and now that I sincerely hope that the future years may show that I am worthy of the trust you have given me this afternoon."

Hurricanes Give Warning

Barometer Falls and Death-Like Stillness Precedes Storm.
Twenty years ago a storm similar to the recent one that devastated the Florida and Gulf coasts swept down on Pensacola and Mobile with considerable damage not only to these two cities but to the towns and villages for miles around. William J. Carver in the New York Evening World. In such a hurricane there is ample warning of the oncoming disaster. Down goes the barometer, only, however, for a certain area, sometimes a swath thirty or fifty miles wide. The low pressure causes a partial vacuum that accounts for the death-like stillness that precedes the descent of the storm. Air from the areas surrounding the path of the storm rushes in to fill the vacuum and then you have the storm with all its force and vengeance. It is the rush of air from all directions to fill the partial vacuum that causes what is called the West Indian hurricane.

Saved Valuable Contract

Wireless Secured Big Job for British Shipbuilding Firm.
A shipbuilding firm near Newcastle saved a valuable contract by the help of wireless.

They had tendered for repairs to a big liner and would have won the contract but for the outbreak of the strike. The ship was sent to Rotterdam to be repaired after the strike had broken out, but she had not reached there when the strike ended. The shipbuilders at once wired the owner, and persuaded him to send a wireless message to the vessel. The message was received, the liner turned back to Newcastle, and the contract was saved for the British firm.

Prairie Corn Growing

Remarkable Progress Made in Corn Growing in the Prairie Provinces.
Official statistics from Ottawa show that greater interest than ever is being taken in the production of corn in the prairie provinces. The entire acreage devoted to corn growing in this territory in 1935 was 166,222 acres, which produced 861,000 tons, with a value of $2,940,000. A total of 28,400 acres was planted in Manitoba, which produced at the rate of 6.40 tons per acre accounted for an output of 247,000 tons, which, at the average price of $6 per ton, was worth $1,482,000. Saskatchewan's acreage last year was $4,111 acres, the average acre produced 4.81 tons, this accounting for an output of 260,000 tons, which, at the average price of $6 per ton, was worth $1,560,000. Alberta planted 73,700 acres, which produced an average of 4.80 tons to the acre, or a total of 354,000 tons, which sold at an average of $6.65 per ton, realizing $2,354,000.

According to a preliminary estimate of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics there are 173,600 acres planted to corn in the Prairie Provinces in 1936, an increase of 7,380 acres over last year. Manitoba and Saskatchewan record slight decreases, the year's increment being attributable to the addition of over 10,000 acres planted in Alberta. Manitoba's 1936 acreage is 28,000 acres, or 94 per cent of 1935; that of Saskatchewan, 53,600 acres, or 99 per cent of 1935; and Alberta's 84,000 acres, or 114 per cent of 1935. The average yield of fodder corn in the ten-year period 1916-25 has been 6.13 tons per acre in Manitoba, 4.81 tons in Saskatchewan, and 4.32 tons in Alberta.

The progress which has been made in corn growing in the Prairie Provinces has been rather remarkable. Ten years ago Manitoba had only 3,390 acres planted to corn, yielding 27,000 tons; Saskatchewan, 2,253 acres, yielding 5,900 tons; and Alberta, 675 acres, yielding 1,700 tons; a total acreage of 12,768 acres and a total yield of 34,600 tons for the three provinces. The acreage planted to corn in the Prairie Provinces has in the decade increased by over 400 per cent.

As in the case of wheat it was dogmatically asserted that corn would never be grown north of the international boundary. Now wheat is being produced commercially 700 miles north of the line and corn is already a recognized crop 250 miles north of the border, with its sphere steadily extending. The progress which has been effected might have been yet more remarkable but for the general attitude which this dogmatism created toward corn growing, and what has been done is largely attributable to a few enthusiasts who went ahead in spite of all skepticism and to the ceaseless researches of governments—Regina Post.

Veteran Taxi Sent To U.S. Convention

Old Paris Cab Was Used in Battle of the Marne.
The gasoline-propelled "647," a taxi cab veteran of the Battle of the Marne, has been sent to Philadelphia.

"Bolt" away back in 1918, the historic Paris taxi cab recently was taken from its well-earned retirement in a quiet storehouse, and shined, repainted and bedecked for its eventful visit to the American Legion's convention in Philadelphia.

It was and is only an old fashioned taxi cab, which with thousands of others was rushed with the hurriedly assembled French reserves across Paris to face the rapidly approaching enemy, when France's very existence was threatened in 1918.

The French veterans organizations, in their message, took occasion to remind the American Legionnaires that they will be received as brothers when they come to Paris next year for their annual convention.

"This taxi, which was one of our most effective, our most touching response to the false reports spread abroad by our enemies regarding our attitude toward you," the message read.

"We are happy to send it with our fraternal salute."

Find No Jewels On Mummy

X Ray Test Fails To Support Popular Theory.
To test a popular theory that jewels were about to remain on bodies lying under the mummifying process in the ancient Egyptians, G. W. Sullivan, an X-ray expert, arranged with Dr. Knickerbocker to perform an X-ray operation.

The X-ray did not disclose any objects on the mummies, which resembled the jewels.

Some excellent photographs were obtained. They indicate that the bodies are disintegrated and that the person a woman, who has mummified some 1,500 years, was probably injured in an accident.

Control Of Cancer

Strong Hope Held Out That Science Will Eventually Overcome This Disease.

Strong hope that the concentrated world-wide study now going on would result in establishing the cause of cancer was expressed by distinguished cancer specialists and research workers of many countries who spoke at the International symposium on cancer called by the American Cancer Society for the Control of Cancer. The general opinion expressed in the discussion was that there was no single cause of cancer, but that it was usually the result of a combination of factors.

Public education and prompt treatment of the disease was emphasized at the conference. A contrary opinion was expressed, however, by Dr. W. Sampson Hatfield of London, who, speaking particularly of the British public, expressed doubt whether much good could be accomplished by direct public propaganda.

The progress made in the study of cancer and the obscure fact of the disease were presented by Sir John Bland Sutton, president of the Royal College of Surgeons, who said never in the history of medicine had the methods of observation and experiment been so coordinated and brought to bear in this strength for the control of a particular disease as in the quest for the causes of cancer. This quest arose in consequence of the enormous impetus given to surgery by the discovery of anesthesia and antiseptics, which enabled surgeons to control pain and post-operative sepsis.

"For the control of cancer it is necessary to educate men and women to the importance of seeking advice for nodules, birth marks, warts, moles and chronic ulcers. The significance of such defects is known to well-trained surgeons and their removal is a rule, simple and safe."

"We need not be pessimistic. Seventy years ago the cause of sepsis was as obscure as the cause of cancer is today. Science is the men of co-ordinated knowledge, and men have discovered after incredible labor that diseases are governed and spread by virus methods. We may feel sure with the excellent co-ordination and co-operation of science and practice in the great cities of the world, aided by public interest and freely helped by enlightened benevolence light will come."

Telephoning From Mid-Atlantic

Wireless Rate to New York is $10 For Three Minutes.

Passengers crossing the Atlantic on the U.S. liner Leviathan can, through the ship's high-power radio telephone transmitting and receiving outfit of the duplex type, carry on a telephone conversation with their friends on shore.

Thus, when the liner is 2,000 miles east of New York on her way to Southampton, connections can be obtained with towns and cities as far as Los Angeles and San Francisco, 3,000 miles away.

For the facility afforded a passenger who speaks from mid-Atlantic to someone in New York, 2,000 miles distant, the caller has to pay $10 for three minutes, while for every additional 1,000 miles roughly another $5 has to be added for the minimum conversation.

British liners are not allowed to carry wireless telephone apparatus on account of the complications which might arise in connection with the receipt of wireless calls from ships, and the possible interference with the reception of wireless directional bearings sent out periodically from the shore stations, and used by the ships to find their exact position. Wireless telephones and Morse messages cannot be transmitted or received at the same time on the same aerial.

Should Appeal To Commuters

Fully Equipped Garage Now Part of London Suburban Stations.
Garages are to be attached to London suburban railway and underground stations for the use of commuters. A charge of a shilling will be made to railway season ticket holders, and about 60 cents to others.

The innovation is expected to increase the amenities of suburban life, enabling persons living considerable distances from the railways to reach the stations without dependence upon tramcars, buses or taxis.

Putting the Lawyer Right

During the trial of a motorist who had been arrested for riding at an excessive speed, a youthful witness, having once or twice wandered away from the witness stand, was told to give a precise answer to every question put to him. The blustering witness proceeded:

"You drive a wagon."
"No, sir, I do not."
"Why, did you not tell us before that you drive a wagon?"

"No, sir."
"Then for goodness sake, what is your occupation?"

"I drive a horse."

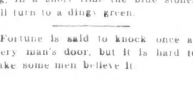

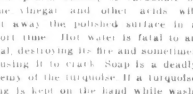

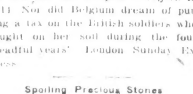

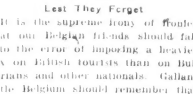

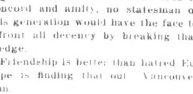

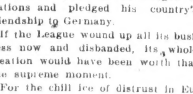

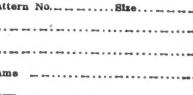

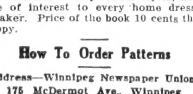

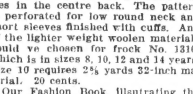

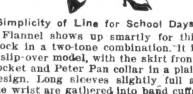

First Farmer: "This shrikebird is going to charge us $1000 for that shower yesterday."
Second Farmer: "Hm. I suppose that's what they mean by saving up for a rainy day."

MR. D. O. WOOD

Who has been appointed General Freight Traffic Manager of the Canadian National Railways with headquarters in Montreal.

The Commanding Position
Of Our Agriculture
By C. W. Peterson

The average person readily gives an intellectual assent to the statement that agriculture is our basic industry, and the "backbone of the nation," but usually without attaching any conception of the fundamental facts of the case. It is a mere figure of speech. It is, therefore, well to consider briefly to what extent agriculture has been responsible for Canada's material progress. Forty-one per cent of our net production in the last census year was agricultural; thirty-three per cent was manufacturing; and our forests, mines, fisheries, construction, etc., account for the remaining twenty-six per cent.

The eight billions of total agricultural capital in Canada represents 38 per cent of her total available wealth; her real estate accounts for 26 per cent, our railway plants, 10 per cent, forests, 5 1/2 per cent, mines, 2 1/2 per cent, and manufacturing equipment, 2 1/2 per cent.

It will thus be clear that Canada's agriculture looms up as the largest single factor in her economic life, and the farmers as the largest group of domestic consumers, consequently exercising a commanding influence in the general business conditions of the country. One-third of all revenue freight carried by our railways originated on the farm and another third at least, was represented in carrying commodities of all kinds back to the farm and the agricultural raw material to and fro. The Canadian farm not alone feeds the nation, but exports on such a scale that credits are available to balance our international obligations and create a favorable trade balance.

Besides the millions of farm workers directly engaged in producing, there are other millions earning their living by performing work connected with supplying the implements, tools, shoes, clothing, etc., for the farmer, with the manufacture of raw material originating on the farm and the distribution and transportation of such commodities. Who is bold enough to attempt correctly to estimate the economic importance of agriculture in a country like Canada? It is perhaps well within the mark to assert that at least 80 per cent of Canada's total population, in every walk of life, depend absolutely on her agriculture, directly or indirectly.

These are imposing figures and should lead thinking men to speculate on the possible performance of Canadian agriculture were we in the happy position where more than a mere fringe of our agricultural area was on a producing basis. If, for instance, we were permitted to assert that of our arable lands, instead of only one sixth, granting a fairly balanced population, all our present economic problems would vanish over night. The time is ripe for bringing such a situation before the public, and the need of our arable lands, the markets are there, we only need the manpower to complete the circle. And it is surely a matter of intelligent business organization.

An Interesting Experiment

Apples and Pears Successfully Crossed by Dresden Gardener.

According to a writer in a German publication, apples and pears have at last been successfully crossed. Previous attempts have failed because the pollen of the apple does not reach the pear or the pear on the apple. Now a gardener living near Dresden, Germany, has had the happy thought to try an intermediate step. He grafted apple twigs on six-year-old pear trees and the shoots thus obtained were in turn grafted on pear trees. We read:

"The fruit obtained in this manner exhibits all the good properties of both the apple and the pear. One slight disadvantage, however, is that during the first three years the fruit is marred by spots the color of blue plums. This new apple pear cannot be grown outdoors, but only in greenhouses, where it begins to bloom about April 15."

Farm Settlers From U.S.

Active movement of farm settlers from the United States to Canada continues, according to the department of immigration and colonization. Eighteen officers are maintained in the United States and all report increases for the month of August, with the agency at Fargo, N.D., heading the list with 272 farmers, who, with wives and children make a total population of 222. They brought with them to Canada cash and effects valued at $442,325.

Scheme Did Not Work

A man entered the vestibule of a local hotel and placed his umbrella in the stand, but before going upstairs he told the umbrella a "hard" and which he had written: "R. H. Y. umbrella belongs to a champion boxer. Back in ten minutes."

In twenty minutes he returned, but the umbrella was gone. The card, however, was still there, and on it someone had written: "R. H. Y. umbrella taken by a champion long distance runner. Won't be back at all."

British Columbia Apples

It is estimated that southern British Columbia will produce 3,217,000 boxes of apples this season. This is about 700,000 boxes more than last year's production. Arrangements are being made for a heavy export business to Great Britain, as well as to the Pacific and Eastern Canada.

Treasures Rarely Seen

Steel Bars Protect Rare Articles Prized by England.

Resting in the deep vaults of the Guildhall, behind the steel bars of a strong room, and guarded day and night incessantly, are some of the most prized treasures of England.

Only on exceptionally rare occasions are they brought to the light of day. The priceless crystal sceptre, for instance, a marvel of ancient Saxon workmanship, encrusted with pearls and uncut jewels, is seen by the public only when monarchs go for their crowning to Westminster Abbey.

There is the Charter, signed by William the Conqueror, granting certain rights to the citizens of London. There is the deed of purchase of a house in Blackfriars signed by William Shakespeare. Not having room for his full name on the seal, he left it as "William Shakspe." But in the deed text, it appears in full.

A priceless book is the missal which formerly belonged to the Church of St. Botolph, Aldersgate. This was written in 1425, and is packed with richly colored illuminations.

But chief among the books as showing the industry and patience of the makers of old is a Bible, written in Latin, in 1122. It is a quarto book of 900 pages, written throughout by one hand and maintaining throughout from the first word to the last a uniform grace and artistry that is astounding.

The writer had to make his own ink and even prepare his own parchment, and in all probability worked in a dimly lighted cell.

"Pathfinders" In London

Automatically Shows Quickest Route To Any Part of City.

It will soon be very difficult to find one in London to lose his way.

The first of the "Pathfinders" which are to be installed all over London was erected recently in the tramway shelter on the Victoria embankment, at Westminster.

It was soon surrounded by a crowd of small boys who wanted to press the button; but they had to make way for men and women who really wanted to know the best and quickest way from Westminster to Wool Green or Clapham Junction.

The "Pathfinder" soon told them. It consists of a clear map of London, with its own position indicated by an illuminated red spot.

On either side of the map is a column of buttons, each one plainly marked with the name of a district, and the Inquirer has only to press the button representing his destination and the shortest and most convenient route is illuminated.

The installation calls for no outlay on the part of a municipality, who are simply asked for facilities for installing signs. The authorities are consulted as to the places which it is desirable to have represented, such as town halls, libraries and hospitals.

Pictures Regular Air Service Across The Atlantic

Head of Ship Building Firm Gives Warning to Ship Owners.

Predictions that in 20 years time there will be a regular service of aircraft, either Zeppelins or aeroplanes, between North America and Europe, and that a regular time table would be in use, were made by Sir Alfred Yarrow, Bart, founder of the ship building firm of Yarrow and Company, Ltd., Glasgow. Sir Alfred took occasion to express a warning to ship owners that the time will come when people will fly across the Atlantic, and believed that the shipowners do not fully realize what will take place with regard to the curving line he will encounter with air transportation. Passengers desirous of crossing the Atlantic in a night and two days will only pay that method instead of taking fast steamers.

"I very much doubt," as things stand at present, if it is a good policy to build vessels of the maximum speed obtainable, for it is extremely probable that vessels capable of doing 20 knots, together with air transport, will afford the means of transportation for the future," the well-known shipbuilder declared.

To Study Pool

United States Experts are Studying Co-operation Method in Canada.

The United States department of agriculture through the new division of cooperative extension, has sent experts to Canada to make special studies of co-operation there. Studies are being made in particular of co-operation in handling wheat and livestock. The methods of the wheat pool of Canada are being carefully inquired into.

The purpose of the investigation is to accumulate data on cooperative methods which can be disseminated among farmers and farm organizations in this country for encouragement and guidance of the cooperative movement.

No Old-Time Sailors

Despite the fact that 366,000 seamen avail themselves each year of the summer cruise institute, New York, Rev. Mr. Cumpton, the chaplain, who spent his youth before the mast, stoutly insists that there are no seamen to-day. With the passing of sail, he says, there has come a new type of sailor to man the ships, and the traditional "sea dog" is now only a character of history.

Germany's
Colonial Trade

Capital Represented is Almost as Great as Before War.

In view of the British government's avowed determination to regain a footing in the colonial world, it is interesting to learn, from a report published by the department of commerce in Washington, that Germany since the war has made "astonishing progress" in colonial commercial operations in various parts of the globe.

According to the report, the capital represented in Germany's present colonial trade enterprises is almost as great as it was before the war, when 78 such companies existed, with a total capital investment of not less than 290,000,000 gold marks.

Twelve of the companies have entirely gone out of business, but seven new ones have been founded, and these new capital of 270,000,000 marks. Nearly half of the remaining enterprises have already returned to a gold-mark basis. Only four managed to retain their former properties intact. Others have, however, repurchased their plantations at auction. Still others are busy rebuilding their pre-war establishments. In a number of cases, where former German colonies are now in the possession of other powers, and where very stringent regulations exist, tending to prevent German firms from regaining their former importance, German companies have changed their names and are operating from adjacent territory.

In short, while Germany's colonial empire passed under new masters in a political sense, commercially much of it remains within reach of German enterprise. With returning industrial prosperity, Germany is bound to feel increasing need for new sources of raw material and new markets to buy her products. This outward pressure is already in progress, and Europe has begun to take it into account.

For the victors to attempt to block Germany's future expansion, which must come, would be like trying to stem the current of the Rhine. They are gradually commencing to believe that even the colonial map of the world may have to be revised and a place on it for Germany found. The preparatory step toward that place, and to make the best of it.

Problem Of Good Roads

McMurray Bituminous Sands to Furnish Roadmaking Material for West.

If the Kentucky Asphalt Company can develop successfully a road-making industry which requires the removal of 25 feet of sandstone rock to reach a 25-foot deposit of rock asphalt which has to be blasted out, which has a bitumen content of 10 per cent and must compete with refinery asphalt residue at $8 to $10 a ton, have double the bitumen content, twice the depth of deposit, and compete with asphalt residue at $36 to $43 a ton have a natural advantage. In the development of a similar road-making industry in Alberta.

What was the clashing argument presented to delegates of the Canadian Good Roads Association convention in Edmonton, the bitumen branch of the Dominion Government, considered to be one of the foremost authorities on bituminous sands in North America.

Dr. Elfs was scheduled to speak on "Alberta Tar Sands," but he preferred, he said, to call his address "The Birth of a New Industry," because the development of the use of McMurray sands, which he felt was coming, would mean just that to the people of the North, and to the people of Western Canada in general who were seeking a solution of the problem of good roads.

What Saskatchewan has done in the matter of highways and market roads was told interestingly by that province's deputy Minister of Highways, H. S. Carpenter, an acknowledged authority on road-making problems.

Hon. Mr. Justice McKenna, chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada, and Hon. G. S. Henry, Ontario's Minister of Highways, were called to the platform by the chairman, Hon. R. C. Black, Minister of Highways for Nova Scotia.

New Whistle for Locomotive

No longer will residents along the right-of-way of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad be awakened by the shrieking of locomotive whistles. In the opinion of Eugene Duval, local general agent of the road, Locomotives are being equipped with a new "chime" whistle, sounds from which are described by the designer, E. K. Silvio, as "soft as the woodwinds of a symphony orchestra."

Duval said that while the sound of the new whistle is mellow, it can be heard as far as the shriek of the usual type.

He, Ah, darling, as we sit together under the spreading branches of this noble tree, I declare on my honor that you are the only girl I ever loved.

She: You always say such appropriate things, Paul. This is a chestnut tree. This, Paul.

About $5 per cent of all the firms that destroy bars in the rural districts are caused by lightning.

CHAPTER 1
Of the First Book of
THE SONS OF SWAT
 Translated from the writings of
THORPUS SECUNDUS

 by BIRDIE FORE

 1. NOW IT CAME TO PASS in the days of Ole of the tribe of Boode that certain of the rich men round
 and about Lacombe, called Jerusalem, murmured among themselves, saying
 one to the other—
 2. "Why go we out even to the walls of the city of Jericho, which lies on the banks of the brook Red Deer to vie one with the other in the royal and ancient game of Golf, when even without our own getting, that he cried in a loud enough and to spare which the chief priest elders of the city hold unto themselves for their sons and their sons sons?"
 3. "Let us then beseech them that they render unto us of the first of this vineyard that we may build unto ourselves as seemeth fit foundations upon the high places from which we may smite mightily to the desire of our hearts unto the First, Second,
 and unto the Eighteenth holes, we and our sons with us."
 4. And it came to pass that they bowed down before the chief priest
 and elders of the city and the desire of their hearts was granted and they went out from their midst rejoicing one with the other.
 5. And took unto themselves the name of the Sons of SWAT, and they murmured among themselves as to who should be the greatest in their midst; howbeit, they appointed he, Norman of the Tribe of Morrison as chief priest to reign over them, and in Alfred of the Tribe of Lacombe for scribe, chief priest and scribe an-ced they them.
 6. And the chief priest commanded them saying, go out and touch the brethren that are in the synagogues and in the market places saying unto them:—"Render unto us we pray thee
 the sum of Fifty Talents that we may prepare the land that the chief priest and elders of the city out of the fullness of their hearts have given us."
 And he appointed certain of the brethren to go out and touch them and they went straightway as they were commanded and touched some for Fifty talents and some Five and some Ten.
 8. And among them that were touched, were he George of the tribe of Doherty and of Hey and of Owen and of Hynes and of Locke, ministers unto the sick, and many others.
 9. And they touched even he Howard of the tribe of Moxy, a scabber, for he it was that said unto his neighbor
 "If thy tooth offend thee, pluck it out,
 and when they had commanded him
 to do so they went out from his midst with weeping and wailing and knocking of teeth and gnawings that can not be uttered.
 10. And they went even unto he Dan can of the tribe of Chisholm, the believer, and bowed down before him
 but he hardened his heart against them and rebuked them saying: "get thee behind me for I am not minded

 to smite with thee upon the hill tops
 nor vie with thee as thou desirest" nevertheless they touched him also,
 it was very touching.
 11. And many there were that mocked saying one to the other "rather will we put our money out to usury," and they took council with the winebibbers
 and them that play upon the tables
 of the green baize, and they wasted
 their substance in riotous living.
 12. And they became filled with new wine and recked not to be chosen
 among the sons of SWAT.
 13. Now it came to pass that the Sons of SWAT sought out he Mutt of the tribe of Paddison and would have touched him also, but he would have gotten the chief priest to cry in a loud voice:—"Nux nimica in loco parenthesis" which being translated means NOTHING DO-ING, howbeit, he anointed their heads with oil and allowed them to depart in peace.
 14. Now, (whereas he took council with them that mocked, and stood in the way of sinners and sat in the seat of the scornful.
 15. Now it came to pass at this time that the offers were filled and they took council one with the other, saying: "Let us now send into a far country for a prophet who when he shall come to us shall spy out the promised land and prepare the way, cutt upon cutt and measure for measure, and they did so.
 16. And they saw him coming even when he was afar off and ran out to meet him and fell on his neck, and kissed him, and went up in to the hills overlooking Lacombe Jerusalem,
 and laid out the land as they required him, here a Tow and there a Tow,
 here a green and there a green, fairway upon fairway, bunker upon bunker so builded he it.
 17. And they walked it around as a city, and the sheep and the oxen and the cattle upon a thousand hills fed thereon, for they said: "So shall the measures be laid bare and acceptable
 for our habitation."
 18. And when the day was far spent they went with one accord into the vineyard and labored mightily, spying
 out the thorns that beset the fairways
 and gathering them into piles to burn them.
 19. Now they said: "Let us hire unto ourselves a handman to finish the work of our hands and prevent the way in all things whatsoever we do as it is. For they said: "Thy Labor is worthy of thy hire."
 20. And it came to pass that they sought out he George of the tribe of Bradford and he came gladly and labored in their midst, for he was as a foxing and a thief, and his soul delighted in his father's.
 21. And he builded holes in the ground as oxen places as the chief priest commanded, yet even into the right crotch holes so they reckoned them and surrounded them with the sands of the sea.
 22. And they would have builded unto themselves a 12th hole, but they were without the wherewithal where with to do so, so until this day they builded it not.
 23. Now it came to pass that the work being accomplished and the fields ripe

 for the harvest, that many others came gladly, rejoicing to be called the Sons of SWAT, they and their wives
 with them, and many that mocked came also.
 24. And among them that came were they of the tribes of Scheidel and of Gilmour, moneychangers in the temple of Mammom, and of Chapman and of Belcher, money lenders and us-uers and many others so came they.
 25. And the chief priest and elders commanded them saying "when thou drivest from the high places to the first, second, yet even until the 18th holes, thou shalt do so with all thy might and with all power and with all that is within thee.
 26. Thou shalt not belittle thy score nor falsify same to exult over thy brother, lest thou be cut off and cast down in thy exultation, for strait is the path and narrow is the fairway
 that leadeth unto the green pasture
 and few there be that find it.
 27. And it shall be that every swat which thou swatest shall be counted against thee, and if thou smited in vain when the eyes of thy brother are afar off, then shalt thou not seek to beguile him, but shall proclaim it in a loud voice, or if thy cursing betray thee then he shall hear and be satisfied.
 28. Thou shalt not covet thy brother's mid-ten, nor his mashie, nor the putter with which he putteth nor his club
 of any kind, and thou shalt search diligently for thy neighbor's ball when it falleth among thorns.
 29. And if when thou searchest thou findest a ball which is not like unto thee or thy neighbor who is with thee,
 then thou shalt not hide it under a bushel, but shall proclaim it in a loud voice, and thy brother who owneth it shall come and claim that which is his.
 30. Thou shalt not rave in thine heart, nor speak harshly of the ball which thou chastenest, neither shall thou mock thy neighbor when he smites in vain.
 31. And behold the driving of some
 was as the driving of Jehu the son of Nimshi for their balls fell upon good ground and they rejoiced greatly as does he who partaketh of wine
 that maketh glad the heart of man.
 32. And one drove so that his ball fell among thorns, and harsh words sprang up and choked him and he would not be comforted.
 33. And it came to pass that the mock-ers ceased his mocking and there was peace throughout the land, and they lifted up their eyes and called out in a loud voice to their neighbor when he was afar off, Selah! Selah! which being interpreted means FORE!

 It will interest insuring farmers to know that the
WAWANESA MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY
 has this year levied an assessment of only 22 1-2 p.c.

 This means that the three years charge for $100 in surance is $1.35 against a board rate of $2.00 for the same protection. The Board companies charge an extra $1.00 per hundred for prairie fire protection which is included in the Wawanesa rate quoted above. In other words they charge more than double the Wawanesia rate.

 Those who are interested in cutting down overhead expenses will be well advised to call and go into the matter thoroughly with us before getting covered elsewhere.
